MANHOOD
IN THE
YOUNG AND RISING GENERATION.

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in few years how often the pallid hue, the lack-lustre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effort, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zest to healthful and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole economy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman, is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for its victim.

The Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids. Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves, no repose of manner, no earnestness, no speculation, but a hurried transition from one question to another.

THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON—WHICH THIS MEDICINE INVARIABLY REMOVES—SOON FOLLOW LOSS OF POWER, FATUITY AND EPILEPTIC FITS, IN ONE OF WHICH THE PATIENT MAY EXPIRE.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson at the Bloomingdale Asylum, this same result occurred to two patients. Reason had for a time them, and left both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Who can say that these excesses are not frequently followed by those direful diseases, Insanity and Consumption? The records of the Insane Asylums, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate.

"With woful measures wan despair
Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer an invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of the

THE POPULAR LOAN.
Northern Pacific Bonds!!
$6,000,000
Of these bonds were sold in London, and over
$1,500,000
Sold in the United States during the month of January.

These Bonds have sold, during the past year, to an extent unequalled by those of any other Corporation, and they have now taken their place among the solid and favorite securities of the country.

This is because the Bonds are based upon the amplest security, being a FIRST AND ONLY MORTGAGE "upon the railroad, franchises, and all the lands and property, and rights of property, real and personal, now in possession by the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, or which the said Company may hereafter acquire." The Land Grant of the Northern Pacific Railroad will average over 23,000 acres to each mile of road. This land is capable of producing in abundance all the Fruits, Vegetables and cereals of the Eastern or Middle States.

THE VALUE OF LAND GRANTS.

The average price at which twenty-six land grant railroads have thus far sold their lands is $7.04 per acre—the highest average of any grant being $13.98, and the lowest $3.07. With few exceptions, the average selling price has increased from year to year. The lands of the Northern Pacific Road are admitted, by all who have seen them, to be better and more saleable than those of most other grants; but, sold at the general average of 7.04 per acre, they will yield more than $161,000 per mile of road—more than three times the possible cost of construction and equipment; or, at the lowest average of any grant (3.07) they will produce more than $70,000 per mile, which is $20,000 per mile more than the company are allowed to issue bonds.

TRAFFIC ON PACIFIC RAILROADS.

As officially reported, the gross earnings of the present Pacific Railroad (Union and Central) for 1871, the second year of through business (December earnings estimated), reach Seventeen Millions and a Quarter. Of this 65 per cent. is from Local Business, and, it is stated, fully 55 per cent. or nearly Nine and a Half Millions, is net over operating expenses.

An equal traffic on the Northern Pacific Road will pay a dividend of 9½ per cent on its total cost. With its great and unquestioned advantages in distance, grades, climate, and tributary fertile country, the Northern Pacific is assured of a vast and profitable business from the outset, with a large increase for the future.

These facts regarding Pacific Railroad earnings, and the market value of Railroad Lands, as shown by actual sales to settlers, show the unquestioned security of Northern Pacific Railroad Bonds.

CONSTRUCTION OF THE ROAD.

The road is completed to the eastern boundary of Dakota, the Red River of the North, a distance of 253 miles. On the Pacific coast, 65 miles are under construction, the greater part of which is completed,—including purchased lines, the Northern Pacific Company, have now nearly 600 miles of running road. Contracts are let for the construction of 635 miles more, to be finished before the close of 1872.

WE WOULD RECOMMEND THE NORTHERN PACIFIC SEVEN-THIRTY GOLD BOND AS ONE OF THE BEST AND SAFEST SECURITIES NOW OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC.

In this security are combined the high credit of a first-class Railroad Bond, with the solidity and safety of a Real Estate Mortgage on land worth more than twice the amount loaned.

These Bonds are payable in 1900—bear 7 3-10 per cent. interest in Gold, payable first of July and January, are free of U. S. Tax—are receivable at 10 per cent. premium for the Company's Lands at the lowest cash price, and are issued in the following denominations: Coupon bonds, $100, $500 and $1000; Registered bonds, $100, $500, and $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The proceeds of all sales of Land are required to be devoted by the Trustees of the bondholders...

STOP THAT LIE!

The Boston Globe in its issue of Monday morning, published the following special dispatch from a lying correspondent in this city containing a deliberate and scandalous fabrication with reference to our local finances, which we call upon that paper to promptly contradict as a baseless and outrageous false hood The dispatch is as follows —

BANGOR, March 10 The Democrats of this city last evening nominated Wm T Pearson for Mayor, and M V B Piper for Police Judge Mr. Piper is a well known temperance man Several serious charges were made by one of the speakers, one of which is to the effect that a defalcation has been discovered in the city treasury Party excitement is running high caused by the alleged confession of the Mayor that the financial affairs of the city are in such a muddled condition that no one can unravel them

The libel upon the credit of the city and the character of a faithful and highly respected public officer, is without the shadow of a foundation, but we propose to show up this irresponsible slanderer whose unblushing mendacity has already exceeded his inventions from the columns of the Boston paper, so that the Globe may fully understand the character of the reports which it is purchasing from this city

The history of the concoction of this shameless lie is as follows On the eve of our local election some unscrupulous Democrat, (probably the author of the above dispatch) seized upon the announcement of the usual, annual appointment of an Auditor of the city finances, to intimate that the action was unusual and indicated something wrong A few persons caught up the insinuation but the effort to disturb public confidence utterly failed and the gossip was treated as absurd On Saturday last an individual who acts as a sort of political scullion for the local Democracy, and whom we understand to be the sender of the above telegram called on the Mayor, saying that rumors were current, and asking him if the Treasurer's accounts were all right. The Mayor replied that he had never heard an intimation of any trouble with the finances, that having been but a brief time in office he had not found occasion to examine the Treasurer's accounts but he should immediately inform that officer of the remarks of his visitor The Mayor called on the Treasurer at once and the latter manifested surprise and indignation at any inference that his accounts were not in order as they were at the time under examination by the Auditor and the closest [illegible] turning the Mayor [illegible] quest with the result of his interview whereupon the individual declared that he had placed no confidence in the rumors but supposed them to be mere gossip

After this confession [illegible] circumstances, this man [illegible] had the hardihood to stand up in the Democratic [illegible] peat his intimation that the City Treasurer was a defaulter, and to state with malicious significance, that the Mayor and other citizens had that day admitted to him their entire ignorance of the condition of the public funds To these [illegible] at a Democratic caucus, we paid no attention as the identity of the speaker [illegible] diction of no local importance [illegible] this slander is sent to a [illegible] per and furnished to [illegible] columns, it becomes necessary to tamp the lie at once, and [illegible] well earned contempt

Mr Paine, the present [illegible] faithfully discharged [illegible] urer for some fourteen [illegible] not a shadow has rested [illegible] At the annual audits [illegible] cent of the public money [illegible] lously accounted for and [illegible] nation is but the customary [illegible] tion ordering it being a verbatim [illegible] of last year. Neither the Mayor [illegible] other of our public officers has the slightest doubt of the entire correctness of the Treasurer's accounts, and the [illegible] falling off [illegible] the Democratic vote on Monday, sufficiently disproves the assertion that party [illegible] was excited by such suspicions The report as we have already said, is a silly and contemptible fabrication, the author of which should be prosecuted for defamation [illegible] indicted for attempting to damage the credit of the city, and we call on every paper which may have copied the story, to stop that lie and, upon the Boston Daily Globe to protect us in future against its lying correspondent or if it chooses to circulate such falsehoods to obtain them of some one who can be held responsible

JOSEPH MAZZINI, the telegraph announces, has died at Pisa, Italy He was the son of a Genoese physician, and was born in 1809 He began his studies at the University of Genoa In 1820, and soon after began to write patriotic essays in a Florentine publication In 1830 he was arrested for conspiracy against the authorities, and after six months' detention was banished Taking up his residence in Marseilles he organized a league called Young Italy (la Giovine Italia) and published a journal of the same name Expelled from France he went to Switzerland, and there organized another unsuccessful revolution — Driven from Switzerland in 1837 he went to England, and remained there till 1848, conducting a journal and writing for the reviews He took a very active part in the unsuccessful revolution of 1848, and was driven back to England. Again in 1857 he conspired against the Neapolitan Government Since the establishment of the Kingdom of Italy he has refrained from any revolutionary efforts, has been reconciled to the House of Savoy, and has dwelt peaceably in Italy His later utterances and writings have contrasted strongly in temper with those of his early life

The London Financier says that the American Government, after mature deliberation has resolved to present its counter case to the general tribunal on the 15th of April, in accordance with the terms of the Treaty of Washington, even if the British arbitrators should not be present, and to insist on proceeding to arbitration regardless of the protest and withdrawal of Great Britain

In the House of Commons on Monday, Mr Macfie called the attention of the Colonial Department to the report which came from America, of a secret treaty for the separation of Canada from Great Britain Mr Hugesson, Under Colonial Secretary replied that he had not thought it worth while to contradict such an absurd rumor, but out of respect to the gentleman he would state that there was not the slightest foundation for it.

THE CASE OF THE BARQUE MERRIMAC. The case of the barque Merrimac, of Boston, which was run down and sunk by the Cunard steamship Aleppo in Massachusetts Bay on the 20th of last April, and which has been on trial in the U S. District Court of New York where the steamers was libeled, has been decided in favor of the owners of the property destroyed, on the ground that the Aleppo should have given the barques the right of way The suit was brought to recover damages to the extent of $134,729 39, the value of the vessel and cargo and the claims of the crew for wages. The barque was owned by Messrs. Bridge, Lord & Co. of this city and others, and the cargo of wool was the property of the Vassalboro' Woolen Mills.

UNWORTHY PARTISANSHIP

"For the first time in the annals of parties in this country, the administration has been put on trial by its political friends, and has to be defended against a prosecution started and carried on by those who substantially agree with its principles. Johnson, elected by Republican votes, was, to be sure, impeached and tried by a Republican Congress, but not until he and his Cabinet became treacherous and usurped unlawful powers to make their treason effective. His successor, on the contrary, while loyally adhering to the principles on which his administration came into power, and enforcing the laws made in pursuance of them, with prudence, fidelity and courage, has been exposed to a running fire of attack hardly less persistent and often more difficult to deal with, because its motives and objects are so little understood

The opposition began early, but it was only when public opinion strongly indicated that the President would be his own successor, that a concerted effort was made to prevent that result not by placing before the country principles more worthy of adoption, or candidates better deserving support, but by breaking down the character of the administration, and heaping upon its members, if the effort succeeded, some taint of personal dishonor If the accusations, or a respectable part of them, were true in the sense in which they have been sometimes insinuated and sometimes taken for granted, if the President and his family had speculated in Government contracts, and sold offices for a share in the profits had conferred public responsibilities and public honors on incompetents simply because they were "related" in some way or had done some petty service, if the President had put in his cabinet or in his household men who were too ignorant to see the limitations which the laws placed upon them, or too indifferent to care for such limitations, if like his predecessor, when he had committed a blunder, he had refused to retract or had employed the resources of his position to carry it to its results, we might well believe that the opposition was inspired by a regard for public purity, and respect the air of independence and superior virtue upon which it prides itself But when the charges are looked into and prove to be pure fiction or to be founded on incidents so trivial that an honorable opponent would not notice them the ostensible motive is not sufficient and an intelligent public rightly assumes the existence of personal reasons which are not paraded, simply because they would not be interesting and would not have the slightest influence

But on the other hand, is it to be supposed that the President's friends, whether in or out of such relations with him as to know how unjust these imputations are, would bear them and not resent them? And is it supposable that the great multitude of fair minded men would look on with indifference when whoever ventured within the atmosphere of political patronage and for whom it is no attractions, who regard political partisanship as the only available agencies through which their principles can be carried into the Government and the laws of the land, who look upon public men as the representatives of the good name and credit of the whole people — is it supposable that they would listen with patience month after month to the pertinacious repetitions of these often exploded scandals which so far as they are believed would equally degrade the country both in our own eyes and in the eyes of the world? The effect which might have been expected in the beginning has been already accomplished Throughout the country Republicans look to the President's renomination not merely as required by the best interests of the country but as necessary to his vindication and to their own The nature of the accusations and the weapons employed, so far from intimidating, have tended to concentrate public opinion and have given it a degree of unity and strength which is rarely seen in quiet times so long before the meeting of a National Convention

Nor has the administration been injured by the investigation of the more serious charges by the two Committees of Congress The burden of the evidence has fully appeared in the prolonged and acrimonious debates In the administration of the New York Custom House usages had grown up in the course of years contrary alike to public policy and to sound business management It was worth while and it was high time, that the attention of the country should be called to them and that decisive measures should be taken, as there have been while the investigation has been going on, to secure in the administration the rights of citizens and the impartial observance of the laws But that the President used the Custom House or consented to its use, for the benefit of him or of his favorites to establish which was the political motive behind the investigation, is now by the evidence to be without a shadow of truth It will require other and stronger reasons than any yet brought forward to convince the country that its confidence has been misplaced its interests sacrificed its good name violated. It is not by attacks like these that judgment will be pronounced upon the administration now or hereafter it has won great and noble achievements in the higher paths of statesmanship the fruits of which are beginning to be seen in the universal evidences of public peace and prosperity, and will contribute to the lasting glory of the country"

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS

BANGOR, March 12, 1870

To the Editor of the Whig & Courier

The following letter was received by me, and although not intended for publication, yet as the sentiments it expresses are so much in keeping with the object of our Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, I think it should not be withheld from the public I therefore offer it for publication, hoping that others may be stimulated to like generous aid in our important work

O H INGALLS, Secretary

OLAMON, March 1, 1872

O H Ingalls Bangor

Dear Sir I am glad to learn by the BANGOR DAILY WHIG of this date that the "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals" is still in existence, and that it has moved for a public meeting, to be addressed by some competent person, in order to awaken a more general interest in the need of, and greater good to all, resulting from a surer penalty to offenders

I have no doubt that cruelty to animals leads to cruelty to man, that many criminals now paying the penalty of violated law in our jails and prisons, were first hardened and led on by allowing themselves to inflict upon dumb animals unnecessary and needless pain I have seen much of this wicked abuse go unpunished for want of an active Society like yours, pledged to see the law duly enforced on all offenders, and sincerely hope your Society may have the co-operation of all, as all have really an interest in its good work This Society can reasonably ask for the united efforts of all sects and parties, without compromising the tenets of any, in creating a wholesome public sentiment and sympathy for the much abused, helpless creature given us by God for useful purposes—not to be tortured or abused by the cruel and unfeeling, but to be protected and cared for, as having rights which all good citizens are bound to respect

For the prevention of cruelty to animals that are dumb, I freely and voluntarily subscribe the influence of my name and inclose a subscription to your fund, to be used as the Society shall deem for the best.

Respectfully,

CHARLES S WELD.

The Albany Evening Journal heads an elaborately prepared list of the Republican victories at the recent municipal elections in that State with this significant line:—"Unparalleled Republican Gains Throughout the State—Foreshadowing of a November Triumph."

CORRECTION. By a transposition of figures in our summary yesterday, Mayor Wheelwright's majority was stated as 401, instead of 410 as it should have been. This makes the gain over the majority of last Spring 124, and over that of the Fall election of 1870, of 1011.

It is commented on as a significant indication of the "course of empire" that New York, which in 1840 had 40 Representatives in Congress as against 5 from the States of Illinois and Missouri now has but 32 against 42 from these same States

The Baltimore Journal (hard shell Democrat) is "sorry to see that a considerable number of Democratic journals are going a little too fast in regard to the nomination of Judge Davis" It advises greater moderation in sounding the Judge's praise until his renunciation of Republicanism takes a more positive form

THE TURF The amount of the purses to be offered by the Buffalo, (N Y) Driving Park Association, for the meeting next August, is $80,000, which is an increase of $16,000 over those of last year. DOMESTIC NEWS.

NEW YORK.

THE DOWNFALL OF ERIE—CONSTERNATION IN THE LOBBY.

NEW YORK, Mar. 12. An Albany letter states that the action of the Erie Directors yesterday, spread consternation among the lobbyists and rural members of the Legislature, who were expecting to make a great deal of money out of the bill now pending for the repeal of the classification act.

JAY GOULD A DEFAULTER FOR OVER $1,000,000.

Mr. Ramsay, ex-President of the Susquehanna railroad, says the amount which Jay Gould has not accounted for of the proceeds of the stock and earnings of the Erie railroad is the enormous amount of $1,125,710.

... CAREER.

Ramsay gives a resume of the ... to the Herald of the proceedings of Gould from the time he left Zadoc Pratt's tannery at a loss to Pratt of $80,000, down to the present day, implicating Eldredge of Boston in a transaction by which $10,000,000 of Erie money was turned over to him by Gould and Fisk, the manufacture of stock and other similarly illegal movements.

PUBLIC SATISFACTION—PRESS COMMENTS.

The news of the overthrow of the Erie Ring seems to be received everywhere with satisfaction. The morning papers regard the results of yesterday as a great triumph in the interest of honesty and reform.

THE HERALD.

says "No coup d'etat has resulted in a more entire success since the famous second of December at Paris, when the Assembly ... and the leaders were transferred from their beds to prison cells." It adds that a few days will disclose a history of profligacy and crime that will astonish ... and ... what ... the character of the time ...

THE WORLD.

thinks it is useless ... to make any resistance to what ... accomplished.

THE TRIBUNE.

says the Legislature ... election of Directors ... beyond any question ...

FISK'S ... REJOICE.

It is stated that ... friends of the late James Fisk, ... of the Erie Railway, are rejoiced at the ... Gould, who is reported to have ... the past year a real enemy ... tending to work ... and ... the ... treated Fisk's widow ... the Elmira Rolling Mill.

THE EMPLOYES.

Nearly all ... of the Erie road known as Fisk men ... cheerfully given their adhesion to the new regime. One portion of the Grand Opera House is yet filled with gangs of men under the employ of Jay Gould, while the other portion is occupied by the police under the orders of the new President.

GOULD AND FIELD AS BURGLARS.

About 12 last night a gang of Gould's men went into the safe and were discovered carrying away the books and papers to Gould's and David Dudley Field's room. Several of them were arrested and the books recaptured but not until several transfer books had been secured by them. Field's clerk secured quite a number of books and placed them in charge of his employer.

AT GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

the Erie officers were garrisoned all last night. Gould remained in the Vice-President's room with his counsel, Field and Shearman, and Vice-President Archer held the Director's room through the night. Both parties had a strong force of supporters and there was considerable disorder an attempt by Gould's men to seize the Treasurer's office being repulsed by Mr. Sisson, who had the vaults strongly guarded.

PLASTERER GARVEY

says he has made no arrangements to receive immunity from the Attorney General for his testimony against the Ring; that he returned to the city because he wanted to be with his wife. He is willing to refund the moneys stolen from the city and make repentance.

MURDERER REPRIEVED.

Judge Barrett has granted a stay of proceedings in the car hook murderer of Avery C. Putnam, and the case will be tried in the Court of Appeals.

A WORD FOR LEET & CO.

Several steamship companies have notified Collector Arthur that they shall send their goods to the warehouses of Leet & Co., stating that they are better accommodated by them than by any others.

ERIE FINANCES.

At the Stock Exchange to-day a letter was received from Secretary Otis, of the Erie Directors, announcing that the present amount of common capital stock of the Erie Railway Company is about $78,000,000. Its transfer books are closed until further orders; also the notification of President Dix; also the motion adopted unanimously by the new board that the resolution of the Erie executive committee, passed in January, 1871, authorizing the issuance of $22,000,000 of bonds convertible into stocks be rescinded, and the Stock Exchange notified accordingly.

ACTION OF THE NEW BOARD.

The Directors held a meeting about noon, at which Gen'l Sickles was present. They passed resolutions that bona fide stockholders shall hereafter have full exercise of their rights to control the direction of this company, and the board will do all in its power to bring about this result; also approving the bill before the Legislature repealing the classification act, and sending two counsel of the board to Albany to urge the passage thereof.

GOULD THROWS UP HIS HAND.

Jay Gould has resigned his Presidency of the Erie road at a meeting of the Directors, at which Gen. Sickles was present.

HOW GOULD SURRENDERED.

The resignation of Jay Gould as President of the Erie railroad is said to have been accomplished as follows:—Gen. Sickles was empowered by the board to offer the ultimatum that Gould, Eldridge, Sherwood and ... be permitted to hold positions as Directors if they come into the sessions of the ... board. Gen. Sickles with much difficulty gained access to Gould's stronghold, where after considerable discussion the terms were accepted.

GEN. DIX IN POSSESSION.

These gentlemen attended the session at ... the acts of the new board were ... and Gould's resignation was offered and accepted. Lynch and his men were ... order restored, and the police left the building. Gen. Dix then took formal possession of the President's room.

CHILD'S CONFESSION.

The inquiry in the case of Insurance Superintendent Miller took a queer turn to-day. St. Clair, the Times reporter who collected materials for the articles against Miller, testified that he is a detective and reporter employed to work up evidence against Miller, ... orders from the Times. He stated that ... visited nearly all the officers of companies, ... Mr. Jones of the National Life, ... any complaint of Miller. His opinion was that the charges were not justified. The evidence of this witness was regarded as clearly showing the animus of the prosecution.

HEAR GARVEY FIRST.

It is stated that Mayor Hall will commence libel suits against the Times, Tribune and Harper's Weekly, and against George Jones of the Times personally, if the case now on trial results favorably.

THE ICE.

The Hudson river is clear of ice from this city to Groton, and it is thought that the channel will be clear to Peekskill to-day.

FROM WASHINGTON.

NORTHERN PACIFIC SURVEY.

WASHINGTON, March 12. Capt. Ball, with his escort of cavalry, has returned to Fort Ellis, Montana, after having escorted Muhlenberg's surveying party of the Northern Pacific railroad, which penetrated to a point 110 miles east of the Crow Agency on the Yellowstone river. During the trip Co. H. lost all its tents, baggage, etc, by fire; several men were badly frost-bitten.

REDUCTION OF THE DEBT.

The statement of the public debt and balances from June 30, 1869, to Dec. 31, 1871, show that the yearly reduction to June 20, 1870, was $107,779,786; to June 30, 1871, was $130,735,147, and from June 30, to Dec. 31, 1871, was $26,501,566, showing a total reduction of the debt since June 30, 1869, to be $265,016,499. The principal of the public debt, Dec. 31, 1871, was $2,326,710,016.

TARIFF RUMORS.

The statement is made that the Ways and Means Committee had decided to reduce the duty on wool and increase that on woolens, and place chemicals and medicines on the free list. The Committee, however, have not yet voted on these subjects.

DIPLOMATIC SCHOOLS.

Ex-Consul Jones was before the Senate Foreign Committee to-day arguing in favor of the establishment of a college in China for the education of interpreters and others out of the $450,000 indemnity fund. It is stated also that there is a fund of $700,000 derived from Japan, which other parties suggest be devoted to similar purposes. Conversations have been held with Mori on the subject.

THE ARMS INVESTIGATION.

The House committee on expenditures in the War Department to-day examined Mr. Squires, agent of Remington. He testified that after the 13th of October, 1870, when the order was given by the War Department not to sell arms to Remington & Sons, Squires employed other parties to buy for them, and taking care to conceal their connection from the officers of the government. Not only were the arms purchased from the War Department, but other arms, Remingtons, Colts, &c., were placed on pier 50, from which the French steamer sailed.

A TELEGRAM FROM PARIS.

During the proceeding the following dispatch, dated March 2, 1872, was read:—

"Richardson, care Remington, Ilion, N. Y.: Mr. Sumner was deceived when stating that the committee of the French National Assembly on war contracts adopted the resolutions asking the results of inquiry from the U. S. government about the sales of arms. I have been repeatedly told by the most influential members of this committee that no inquiry has been thought of. You can make any declaration what use you choose.

(Signed) HENRY MOREAU, Advocate, Paris.

FROM ALBANY.

THE SCHOOL FUND.

ALBANY, March 12. In the Senate this morning a bill was introduced repealing the act allowing sectarian schools to participate in the school fund, and all schools using that fund must be under the jurisdiction of the Superintendent of common schools.

The Comptroller of New York city reported to the Senate to-day that $2,454,716 has been donated to charitable and religious institutions from 1869 to 1871.

ERIE IN THE LEGISLATURE.

The action in the Erie affairs in New York has caused quite a fluttering here. The members of the Legislature are discussing its effect pro and con. The opinions are various, and nothing settled. While some think that the power and influence of the Gould clique is broken, others believe it a mere "blind," or which is of the same effect, the old power will have control of the direction. Some think the action referred to will cause the Legislature to modify the Southmayd bill as passed by the House, while others hold that there is all the more reason to pass that bill as it is, and insist upon a repeal of the classification act.

MASSACHUSETTS.

EASTERN R. R. CO. INDICTED.

BOSTON, March 12. The Grand Jury of the Superior Criminal Court of Suffolk County have returned an indictment against the Eastern R. R. corporation for causing the death, on the 26th of August last, of Wm. H. Emerton of Providence, R. I., one of the victims of the great calamity at Revere.

STATE PRISON FIRE.

CHARLESTOWN, Mass, March 12. At quarter past seven this evening a fire was discovered in the rear of the south wing of the State Prison and within the walls of the institution. The fire originated in the smelt-room of the foundry used by the Tucker Manufacturing Company and was caused by woodwork adjacent to the smelting furnace catching from this room and a portion of the westerly end of the building was considerably damaged. The prisoners had been locked up an hour previous, and notwithstanding the excitement attendant upon the fire, not an outcry was made. The loss to the State will be small. The principal loss fall on the Tucker Manufacturing Co.

NEW JERSEY

SWEEPING CHARGES OF CORRUPTION.

NEW YORK, March 12. The Grand Jury of Hudson County, N. J., made a presentment to the Court at Jersey City yesterday, containing 183 indictments against nearly every official in the county and in Jersey City. They state that corruption is proven everywhere. The whole Police Department, including the Commissioners, the Chief of Police and all the subordinates have prostituted their offices to private ends; that the press is corrupt and libellous and under subsidy from the indicted officials, and recommends Legislative action to protect the people.

A bill was introduced into the Legislature to-day taking the power from the Mayor of Jersey City of nominating policemen to the Common Council.

CONNECTICUT.

THE MERIDEN FIRE.

HARTFORD, Conn, March 12. The loss by the burning of the Meriden Malleable Iron Works in Meriden last night was about $50,000; $10,000 on the building and the balance on the machinery. The insurance is $42,000, including $1,000 in National of Bangor.

THE WEATHER

WAR DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER, WASHINGTON, March 12—1 A. M.

Probabilities.

The low barometer over the lower lakes will probably move northwesterly with a severe storm from Lake Huron southeastward. Clear and pleasant weather will prevail on Wednesday over New England, the middle, South Atlantic and Gulf States with a rising temperature.

FROM THE PACIFIC COAST.

THE GOAT ISLAND PROJECT.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 12. The Alta Californian, Union, Chronicle and Post generally denounce the projected use of Goat Island by the Central Pacific Railroad Co. The Bulletin says it would enable half a dozen men to control the commerce of the coast, completely cutting off all competition in the warehouse business, which would be a calamity to the city and State.

BRIDGE PROPOSED.

The Bulletin advocates the building of a bridge across the southern arm of the bay to bring all the railroads directly into the city.

KENTUCKY.

RAILROAD CHARTER.

CINCINNATI, Mar. 12. Private despatches from Frankfort, Ky., state that the obnoxious features of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad charter were stricken out by the Kentucky House to-day by a viva voce vote without a division, and the bill ordered to the Senate.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

COLLISION ON THE SOUND—NO LIVES LOST

NEW YORK, March 12. The steamer "City of Boston" from this city collided with a schooner on Long Island Sound about 4 o'clock this morning, in a dense snow storm. The steamer was struck on the port side forward of the wheel-house, losing about twenty feet of the guard and upper deck. Several staterooms were carried away, and it is said the boiler was greatly damaged but fortunately did not explode. No lives were lost.

THE CANDIDATES—A HEAVY SNOW STORM.

CONCORD, N. H., March 12. The New Hampshire State election of Governor, Railroad Commissioner, Councillors and Legislature took place to-day after an unusually active and exciting canvas. The Republican candidate for Governor was Ezekiel A. Straw of Manchester, for Railroad Commissioner, Albert S. Twitchell of Gorham. Democratic candidate for Governor; James A. Weston of Manchester, supported for re-election; Railroad Commissioner, Henry Colony of Keene.

A HEAVY VOTE—INDICATIONS.

A quite heavy vote was thrown notwithstanding the boisterous snow storm. The following are among the early indications received: Dover,—noon. At opening of the polls in face of a storm both parties were in full force and voting lively. A large vote will be cast. The prospect now is the Republican Representatives will be chosen in all the Wards—a gain of one. For Rochester the first count shows Republicans ahead.

AT MANCHESTER—REPUBLICANS AHEAD.

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 12. A very large and strictly party vote is being thrown in this city. Probably not more than 40 or 50 Temperance and Labor Reform votes will be cast. Very few defections from either party are reported. This estimates give the city to Straw by about 200 majority.

Keene,—1:35 P. M. Election progressing quietly; vote heavy; interest intense. The Democrats hopeful, Republicans confident.

THE VOTE ELSEWHERE.

Harrisonville elects Democratic Moderator, 10 majority, 4 last year. Surry voted twice for Representative; tie each time. Last year 1 Republican majority. Dover—2 P. M.—Straw 840, Weston 768. Last year the full vote stood Republican 829, Democratic 638, scattering 90. Durham elects Republican Moderator. Alton ditto by 18 majority.—Rochester ditto, 35 majority. Laconia elects 3 Democratic Representatives; last year 2.—Littleton gives about 40 Democratic gain.—Lancaster shows Democratic gain. Lisbon small Republican gain.

DEFINITE RESULTS

cannot be indicated probably before late to-night.

GAINS IN PORTSMOUTH.

BOSTON, March 12. Portsmouth, N. H., gives Straw 1,206, Weston 889, scattering 5; 8 Republicans and 2 Democrats elected to the Legislature. Last year Portsmouth gave 1,914 for Pike, Rep., and 914 for Weston, scattering 5. Legislative delegation stood the same as now.

FIFTY-NINE TOWNS—HEAVY REPUBLICAN GAINS.

CONCORD, N. H., March 12—9:30 P. M.—Returns of Governor's vote of 59 towns gives Straw, Rep, 13,470; Weston, Dem., 12,385; Blackmer, Tem., 85; Cooper 116; scattering 45; giving a majority in these towns of 839 for Straw. These towns last year gave Pike, Rep., 10,593; Weston 11,379; Cooper, Labor Reform, Comings, Tem., and scattering 243.

BETTER STILL—STRAW 1400 AHEAD.

10:30 P. M. One hundred and twenty towns foot up Straw 24,570; Weston 22,622; Blackmar, Tem., 196; Cooper, L. R., 270; scattering 71. Straw's majority 1,411, which will be reduced somewhat by returns to come.

REPUBLICANS JUBILANT—VICTORY IN PORTSMOUTH.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 12. The Republicans are jubilant over the result of the election and paraded the streets up to a late hour with a band of music. Marcy, Dem., is defeated by Warren Brown in this Senatorial district by 200 majority.

REJOICINGS AT MANCHESTER—THE STATE REPUBLICAN BY 1500 MAJORITY—THE LEGISLATURE HANDSOMELY CARRIED.

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 12. The total vote for Governor in this city is 4,033. Straw receives 2,240, Weston 1,760, temperance and labor reformers 33. Straw's majority 447.

The returns from the State as far as received indicate the election of Straw by about 1500 majority.

The Republicans are holding congratulatory meetings at City Hall. Short speeches being made and election returns read to the audience.

The Republicans have made a gain of 7 Representatives in this city and have probably secured a good working majority in the Legislature.

STILL BETTER—THE MAJORITY GROWING.

CONCORD, March 13—1:30 A. M. One hundred & seventy-four towns give Straw 32,339; Weston 29,812; Blackmer, Tem., 338; Cooper, L. R., 291. Straw's majority 1,798. Legislature shows Rep. 167, Dem. 101, Labor Reform 3, Tem. 2.

FORTY-SECOND CONGRESS—SECOND SESSION

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 12.

SENATE.

A bill for refunding to State officers taxes paid on salaries was reported and put on the calendar.

Mr. Morrill of Vermont said that when the bill was called up he should move an amendment for refunding all taxes collected during the war, as they undoubtedly had been burdensome to the people. [Laughter].

The bill granting the right of way to the Great Southern Railroad in Florida came up.

Mr. Morrill of Maine opposed the bill, saying that the people would be astonished at the action of Congress since 1866 in voting away the public lands to railroads.

The bill was passed.

A resolution was adopted that the President furnish the amount of moneys paid for telegraphic despatches the past 3 years.

Bills introduced: To prevent destruction of timber on public lands; providing that votes for Congressmen shall be by written or by printed ballot; also directing the Secretary of the Treasury on application of Governors of State to supply them with treasury notes to an amount which, in connection with the national bank notes already furnished, shall make $8 for each inhabitant, provided that real estate security is given for repayment in 15 years; for the erection of public buildings at Fall River.

The Legislative Appropriation bill came up.

Messrs. Pomeroy and Nye opposed the amendment repealing the law authorizing the publication of laws in the newspapers.

Carpenter, Flanagan, Logan and Corbett also opposed it.

Mr. Pomeroy moved to lay the amendment on the table. Agreed to; yeas 23, nays 21.

An amendment was adopted appropriating $50,000 for the publication of laws in newspapers.

Mr. Edmund offered an amendment providing that after the publication of the laws of the present Congress, their publication in newspapers shall cease. Adopted.

An amendment was adopted raising the salaries of the assistant secretaries, the comptroller of the register, auditor, commissioner of customs and supervising architect of the treasury department, assistant postmaster general, superintendent of money orders and of foreign mails, commissioner of general land office and commissioner of Indian affairs to $4000.

Mr Sherman offered an ammendment to the amendment, increasing the salaries of all the heads of bureaus to $4000.

A motion to table the amendment was lost.

Mr Sawyer moved to add the commissioner of education to the list. Agreed to.

Mr. Logan moved to add the supervising officer of the marine hospital, pending the discussion of which the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The bill granting the Central Pacific Railroad Co. half of the island of Yerba Buena in the bay of San Francisco, was taken up and discussed.

Pending a vote on the motion, the Speaker called attention to the fact that yesterday, under the invitation to members to send up names to be included in the amnesty bill, some one—he was glad he did not know who, nor from which side of the House—had sent up the name of Zebulon B. Vance of N. C. There had been an implied obligation that no one should be included who came within the exceptions of the general bill heretofore passed by the House. That gentleman's case had been a prominent matter of discussion and the chair regarded the insertion of his name as a violation of good faith.

After some conversation, it appeared that the member who sent up the name was not present and the Speaker stated that he had done his duty in calling attention to the abuse of privilege.

The House refused to table the Yerba Buena bill, 73 to 94. A motion was then made to recommit the bill with instructions.

After debate the bill was recommitted without instructions.

Mr. Leach of N. C., stated that he was the member who sent the name of Z. B. Vance yesterday to be included in general amnesty, and contended that he was perfectly right in doing so.

The Post Office appropriation bill was taken up in Committee of the Whole. A proposition to furnish uniforms for letter carriers, and that house holders supply letter boxes, was rejected.

Mr. Wood of N. Y., offered a formal amendment and criticised the statements of Mr. Dawes a few days since as to the receipts and expenditures of the Government for the coming fiscal year. He presented tabulated statements of estimates for the ensuing year, and argued that the surplus would warrant a reduction of tariff duties and internal taxation.

Mr. Dawes of Mass. replied that there was more than $100,000,000 error in the gentleman's estimates, that the first six months' receipts of the current fiscal year multiplied by two, would give a year's receipts at $368,000,000, only $9,000,000 more than the estimates of the Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Conger from the Committee on Commerce, offered an amendment increasing the subsidy for the mail service to China to a million dollars, provided the service be semi-monthly and the ships of American construction, pending discussion of which the House adjourned.

LOCAL AND OTHER ITEMS

THE ELECTIONS TO-DAY. There being no election of one Councilman in Ward 1 and two in Ward 2, on Monday, the meetings in those wards were adjourned to to-day. The Republicans will make no compromise, but are determined to elect their candidates, and are confident of success. In Ward 2, the vote was very close on Monday, standing as follows:—

Ezekiel Cobb	(Rep.)	207
Jessie E. Harriman	"	208
John H. Crosby	"	209
Michael Daley	(Dem.)	200
John S. Jenness	"	205
Hugh Ross	"	208

Two hundred and nine votes being necessary for a choice, it will be seen that but one Councilman, Mr. Crosby, was elected. Messrs. Cobb and Harriman will be again supported by the Republicans, and we have no doubt will be elected by a decisive majority. We hope all our friends in the Ward will be on hand and secure a complete Republican delegation. Joseph Wharff, esq., is the candidate of the Republicans for Councilman in Ward 1.

—Does anybody fear a freshet now?

—Etherial mildness has taken a back seat.

—The sleighing is reported fair, out of town.

—Mercury below the freezing point all day yesterday.

—Laborers were busy yesterday digging ice out of the gutters, probably anticipating a "thaw."

—The sale by auction of J. T. Rines & Co's extensive stock of dry goods, commenced yesterday, and will continue day by day until the entire stock is disposed of.

—The report circulated yesterday that a "terrible riot" had occurred at Brown's camp on Union river, was, we are informed by Mr. Brown, entirely without foundation.

FOR RENT. Messrs. Hamblen & Lancaster offer for rent the new steam saw-mill at Upper Stillwater. A branch track of the E. & N. A. Railway connects with this mill.

—The town of Oldtown has voted to allow the E. & N. A. Railway to lay a track through the Main street of the town for the accommodation of the Veazie Mills.

—A social dance will be given in the Town Hall in Veazie this evening, which the managers promise shall be a good time. Music by Peakes' quadrille band.

—This afternoon a large and fine assortment of dress goods will be sold by auction at Stanford's, and the ladies will doubtless take advantage of it to secure some bargains.

—A new supply of breech-loading guns will soon be turned over to the State authorities by the U. S. officials, when the Jameson Guards will be armed with them.

—We understand that the steamer Katahdin met with considerable difficulty in battling with the ice soon after starting Boston-ward yesterday, and that at one time "stuck" near Bucksport. She was assisted by Capt. Ross' powerful tug, the C. B. Sanford.

—Wm. McCarty lost his wallet, containing quite a large sum of money and several valuable papers, on the corner of Harlow street and Kenduskeag bridge. It was found and returned by Wm. Smith of Orono.

—A heavy snow-storm accompanied by a powerful and extremely cold wind from the northeast, commenced about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and continues as we go to press. Look out for drifts to-day.

BENEFIT BALL. A complimentary benefit ball will be given to Mr. Wm. Crombie at Acadian Hall next Monday evening. The Committee having the arrangements in charge will spare no pains to make it a success.

—Mr. Cornelius Gillispie, who has been in the blacksmithing business in this city for forty-two years, and who was one of our oldest citizens, died on Monday at an advanced age. He was widely known throughout this section of the State.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Libby of Winterport, recently celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage at their residence, where a large number of their friends gathered on the occasion. A great many "golden wedding" presents were received by the happy couple, and the evening was very pleasantly passed by the party.

—The examination of candidates for admission to the High School took place in the school room yesterday. Twenty-seven boys and thirty-eight misses presented themselves. The Committee will examine the papers (the examination was in writing) and report to the scholars on Friday morning in the school room.

—Our Norridgewock correspondent writes that posters on every hand advertise a call for an indignation meeting to be held at Carabassett hall, North Anson on Friday, in view of the removal of the courts, etc., from Norridgewock to Skowhegan. The call is made irrespective of party issues.

THE PILGRIM. The fine panorama of the "Pilgrim's Progress" which has been so much admired during its exhibition at Norombega Hall, will be exhibited again this evening, and this afternoon a special matinee will be given to enable the children to see it. It will well repay a visit.

—The oyster supper and entertainment announced to be given in the Union-street M. E. vestry last evening, was postponed on account of the storm, and will come off to-night. The entertainment will consist of songs, duetts, trios, quartettes, etc. The committee announce that no efforts will be spared to make the evening pleasant to all.

EAST CORINTH DRAMATIC CLUB. This enterprising young club will give one of their interesting entertainments, in Nichols Hall, East Corinth, this Wednesday evening, when they will bring out three plays—"Dora," "Thirty Minutes for Refreshments," and "No Cure, no Pay." As the sleighing between this city and East Corinth is reported good, very likely a delegation will ride up and enjoy the entertainment.

MOUNT MORIAH R. A. CHAPTER. The following officers were installed last evening by Edwin F. Dillingham, Past Grand King:—A. B. Marston, H. P.; M. G. Trask, King; A. B. Farnham, Scribe; Josiah S. Ricker, Treas.; Jona. Burbank, Sec.; Chas. I. Collamore, C. of H.; J. F. Leavitt, P. S; Marshal Dyer, R. A. C.; B. H. Morrill, M. of 3d V.; M. M. Hastings, M. of 2d V.; F. H. Drummond, M. of 1st V.; George Joss, S. S.; John P. Page, J. S.; Rev. Chas. G. Porter, Chaplain; Z. Grover, Tyler.

READINGS. The social festival at the vestry of the Central church last evening was largely attended, and as usual, a very pleasant affair. Prof. E. P. Thwing of Portland, who was present, added much to the enjoyment of the occasion by reading (by request of Rev. Mr. Field) Poe's "Bells," "The Wreck of the Hesperus," "Anniversary Night," by Mrs. Walker, "View of Portland," by Longfellow, "Too much Yeast," by Mrs. Walker, "Early Rising," by Saxe, and "The Village Schoolmaster." Prof. Thwing is one of the finest elocutionists that ever visited Bangor, and we trust he may be induced to give a public reading in our city.

THE TRAINS. A freight train thrown off the Maine Central track in Gardiner by a broken truck, delayed the mail train from the west about 2½ hours last night. No serious damage is reported. The E. & N. A. down train arrived on time, but came only from Danforth, where the up train of the preceding day is waiting for the ice blockade above there (mentioned yesterday morning) to be broken. Over a hundred men are busy clearing the track of snow and ice, assisted by three engines and a snow plow. Supt. Angell is directing the operations by telegraph, and remained in his office through all of Monday night, in constant communication with his men, and doing everything possible under the circumstances.

PENOBSCOT MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION. The Penobscot Ministerial Association met at the Seminary reading room at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Rev. N. Smyth, Moderator, read the Scriptures, Dr. Pond offered prayer, and Secretary J. W. H. Baker read the records of the last meeting. Rev. L. G. Marsh read a sermon on Judas, from John 15:15, showing that "the best instruction, society and example, the grandest opportunities and self culture, without the grace of God, are insufficient to convert a wicked man." Rev. A. Prince presented a plan on John 14:2, a description of Heaven, as a place, a domestic home, a fitting complement of the truth of the fatherhood of God. After an interesting review of each, the Association adjourned to May 21st, when an examination of students for approval as preachers takes place.

EXHIBITION DRILL. The attendance at the Exhibition Drill by the Bangor Cadets in City Hall last evening, was rather thin, owing to the storm, but as the boys sold a large number of tickets in advance to those prevented from attending, they will lose nothing pecuniarily. The company consists of between 50 and 60 members, but owing to the size of the hall but 24 were drilled last evening. The squad showed a remarkable proficiency of drill, both in marching, company evolutions, and the manual of arms. Their "silent manuel" and bayonet exercise without orders were marvels of perfection and elicited the heartiest applause from all present. The Cadets intend in about six weeks to give another exhibition drill, this time in Norombega Hall, where the whole company can manoeuvre with plenty of room. They expect to have new guns from the State by that time. The officers of the Cadets are Geo. W. Hathorn, Captain; N. A. Eddy, First Lieut.; F. D. Hathorn, Jr., Second Lieut.; V. D. Cushing, 1st Sergt.; C. A. Burrill, 2d Sergt.; A. Blakely, 3d Sergt.; J. Tebbetts, 4th Sergt.; W. Schwartz, 5th Sergt.

RESIGNATION OF A FAITHFUL OFFICER. At a full meeting of the Directors of the Eastern Insurance Company, held yesterday, Chas. P. Stetson, Esq., introduced the following:—

Whereas, Jos. W. Freese, Secretary of this Company, has been obliged by ill health to tender his resignation,

Resolved, That we accept his resignation, and take this occasion to express our sense of his able and faithful services as an active officer of this Company, and the interest which he has manifested in its welfare, which was originated mainly by him, and the success of which is largely due to him; and we deeply regret that the state of his health has deprived us of an officer in whom we have had implicit confidence and to whom we have been so much attached.

Mr. Freese's resignation was sent in the last of December, but was not acted on before, in the hope that he might recover his health and be able to continue in his position. Wm. P. Anderson, Esq., of Boston, was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy. He has been a broker in fire and marine insurance for several years, and was for a time connected with the National Life Insurance Company of the United States and a Superintendent of Agencies. He is well known by many in this State, and will make a faithful and efficient officer.

FIREMEN'S BALL. In spite of the violent storm raging last evening, the grand Firemen's Ball, given in Music Hall by Eagle Engine Co., No. 3, was very largely attended—about one hundred couples "taking part" in the saltatory exercises on the floor, while the galleries were crowded with spectators who watched with unceasing interest the brilliant scene below, made gay as the ever-changing views of a kaleidoscope by the bright hues of the firemen's uniforms and the tasteful toilets of the ladies, as they gaily moved through the changes of the dance to the inspiring music of Andrews' quadrille band.—The arduous duties of floor managers were faithfully performed by Engineer E. E. Small, Capt. G. H. Chick, Capt. J. M. Davis, Assistant W. H. Wentworth, Assistant M. Lynch, Assistant James Maloney, Assistant Geo. D. Lunt, C. S. Johnson, F. G. Lovell, Wm. McClellan, Will R. Pittman and Chas. S. Webster. The order of dances was gotten up in such a decidedly original style that it deserves reproduction, and we herewith give it, noting that dances were dedicated as designated on the right.

THE KELLOGG CONCERTS. For reasons which we state below, the Bangor Cornet Band has decided to abandon the project of giving the two concerts for which Miss Clara Louise Kellogg was engaged, and parties who have purchased seats will receive their money back on returning the tickets. Mr. A. D. Harlow, leader of the band, has shown us the correspondence between the "high contracting parties" in relation to the matter. He wrote on Feb. 8th, enquiring terms and asking what date Miss Kellogg would sing here in one concert; the reply was dated Feb. 12th and stated that she could sing here March 15th or 16th, but would not engage herself for one concert; her terms for two were $350 per night, and all expenses of herself, mother and maid. Mr. Harlow immediately telegraphed his assent to the terms mentioned and engaging her. A reply came dated the 15th of February, requesting Mr. Harlow to postpone the concerts till later in March if possible, but stated, "If not perfectly convenient to you to give your concerts later, I shall certainly come, as I never disappoint any one." On the 16th a dispatch came to Mr. Harlow with a more earnest request for a postponement to the 25th and 26th of March, and after consultation with the band, he consented, and answered in the affirmative. Mr. Harlow engaged Mrs. Barry of Boston, the well-known contralto, for the concerts, as well as a first-class pianist for the accompanist, but now comes a letter, or rather three, one after the other, imperatively demanding that Mr. Harlow engage "the best Tenor and Baritone that can be found, and also an accompanist, first best," and adding, "I can assist you to these people if you desire." Finding Miss Kellogg would come on no other terms, and that on these the expenses of the two concerts would reach some $1,500, thus entailing considerable loss upon the band, Mr. Harlow has given up the concerts—the more willingly, as in his last communication Miss Kellogg's agent writes, "You can abandon the concerts if you wish, as going to Bangor loses me two concerts".

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

Mesdames Woodhull and Claflin will shortly leave for a tour in Europe. They have arranged for an absence of a year. We can spare them.

The Cincinnati Commercial says the nomination of Davis and Parker for President and Vice-President by so-called laboring men at Columbus, the other day, was intended as a feeler. Having fallen flat, the question now is, What shall be done about it?

A Western paper says the "case" on the Alabama question must be very near perfection, otherwise Schurz or Greeley would have taken advantage of it long ere this.

Word comes from Richmond, Va., that the old F. F.'s now concede General Grant another Presidential term, and base their hopes on a Democratic triumph in 1876.

A lady attacked the editor of the Iowa Falls Sentinel for remarking that "Democrats are devils." He straightened it in his apology by asserting that "all Democrats are not devils, but the devil is a Democrat."

Gov. Hoffman of New York, having a Republican Legislature on his hands, is quite free with his vetoes. Recently he vetoed a bill containing precisely the same provisions with one he signed last year when he had a Democratic Legislature at his back. Oh, consistency, &c.

THIRTY-FIVE.

BY N. P. WILLIS.

"The years of a man's life are threescore and ten."

Oh, weary heart! thou'rt half-way home!
We stand on life's meridian brink—
As far from childhood's morning come,
As to the grave's forgetful night.
Give Youth and Hope a parting tear—
Look onward with a placid brow—
Hope promised but to bring us here,
And Reason takes the guidance now—
One backward look—the last—the last!
One silent tear—for Youth is past!

Who goes with Hope and Passion back?
Who comes with me and Memory on?
Oh, lonely looks the downward track—
Joy's music hush'd—Hope's roses gone!
To Pleasure and her giddy troop
Farewell, without a sigh or tear!
But heart gives way, and spirits droop,
To think that Love may leave us here!
Have we no charm when Youth is flown—
Midway to death left sad and lone?

Yet stay!—as 'twere a twilight star
That sends its thread across the wave,
I see a brightening light from far,
Steal down a path beyond the grave!
And now—bless thee!—its golden line
Comes o'er—and lights my shadowy way—
And shows the dear hand clasped in mine!
But, list what those sweet voices say!
The better land's in sight,
And, by its chastening light,
All love from life's midway is driven,
Save hers whose clasped hand will bring thee on to heaven!

MRS BARNABY ALLSOP.

BY AUGUSTA LARNED.

(Concluded.)

So it happened in the most natural manner possible, after that, as the spring evenings lengthened and the little city dooryards began to hint of green grass and hyacinths, that Bachelor Allsop sauntered up town of an afternoon, and took his leisurely dinner at a little French restaurant, which by the merest chance in the world happened to be situated nearly opposite Madame Pulsifer's Magasin des Modes. There was not much competition for seats at the little place at that time of day and without difficulty he secured a chair by the window. As chance would have it, after he had tucked half a dozen of Bull's best cigars into his breast pocket, with a sense of comfort diffused through his inner man, he saw a modest gray dress and blue veiled hat came tripping down the steps of Madame's dwelling. He followed the gray dress until it vanished round the corner of a main street, and then in two minutes Bachelor Allsop was along side.

How royally he touched his hat to Bessie Langley; what a reverence he made to the lovely young face that startled and pleased, looked up into his.

"Good-evening, Miss Langley. How very odd that you and I should be going the same way. I hope you haven't forgotten me."

"Oh! no, sir. And did the robe suit the little boy?"

"Indeed, it did to a charm," answered the wretched man, so sunk in perfidy by this time that he almost gloried in his shame. "You should have seen how delighted my friend Bob and Madam were; indeed you should.—And the little creature looked heavenly."

He was gazing with all his might into Bessie's eyes, and noticing the pretty flutter his recognition had brought to her breast; and, with the natural conceit of his sex, he thought to himself: "It wouldn't take long for the little thing to get fond of me. Poor little dear, I don't believe she has ever had much kindness shown her."

It was during that walk in the soft brown spring twilight that Bachelor Allsop conjectured some things about the artless girl at his side which rather touched his soft heart. It appeared that Bessie's old grandmother was not a pleasant person to live with. Her particular diversion consisted in nagging her grandchild and in grumbling over the support that young creature was able to earn. She brought home piece work from Madam Pulsifer's to do at night, and sat up late and rose early. All this he understood as he approached the place where she lived.

"Don't, don't sir, come any further, I beg," she said, with an appealing look.

It was a low neighborhood, with bad smells arising from the gutters, and bands of dirty, ragged children whooping through the street. A large red armed vixen was leaning on a barrel-head by the door of her grocery, in the midst of a sickening array of wilted vegetables. Bachelor Allsop could see the house where Bessie lived. It was a rickety establishment, with a bird fancier's shop underneath, from which issued the screams of macaws and the varied warblings of many canary birds. Out of a miserable second story window was thrust the cappy head of an old crone, gazing with her bleary eyes up the street, in order to open a volley of scolding upon the head of her grand-daughter as soon as she should make her appearance. Bachelor Allsop knew she smelt of garlic and tobacco, if not of spirits and water.

As he strolled back to the fine avenue, where the carriages of the fashionable world were rolling home from the Park, with many a tawdry-fine woman and many a bored, weary, indifferent face looking out, he thought of the young girl he had just left—of her low, vile, ill-smelling abode, and of the horrible old woman who persecuted her—with something like bitterness for so easy a philosopher, while he vowed that Bessie Langley was as fine a lady as ever walked.

Bachelor Allsop was not troubled with the blues any more after that. The crows' feet about his eyes had disappeared, the gray hairs were only scattering and easily concealed. In his perfectly fitting lavender kids, twiddling his watch-chain, with well brushed coat and the last shape of hat, and with perchance a rosebud in the buttonhole, he looked as gallant a gentleman as need be. The imaginary Mrs. Barnaby who had flitted through his bachelor fancy now and then took her leave, and in her place there was the sweet, downcast face, the dove's eyes and brown wavy hair of Bessie Langley. It was too bad, really, bad that she should be wearing herself out over that endless stitching these warm spring evenings, and the old woman, he was sure, was making the tears come and drop down on the sprigs and the leaves the poor child was embroidering. Bachelor Allsop tapped the window casing softly with his cane and whistled low to himself. He was as spooney as a boy of eighteen. The clerks in the office were sure there was something the matter with old Allsop. One of them had watched him as he walked up-town of a bright afternoon, stopping to buy out the stock of a little flower girl, who had her stand on the steps of a certain famous hotel. The sharp little thing sniggered and winked as soon as his back was turned. She too had discovered the state of his affections.

Bachelor Allsop formed a great many plans for the benefit of Bessie Langley. His benevolence knew no bounds, but at the same time it occurred to him that he had always been too rigid and puritanical in his notions as applied to his own conduct. A man ought to live faster than he had done in his youth.—There were Brown and Robinson and some of the men of his set. Pah! he knew what their lives were—[illegible] know men and yet they stood as fairly with the world as he did. They were received into ladies' parlors, and the fond mammas angled and the innocent daughters simpered and ogled as industriously as if they had been as clean as saints in bliss. He was half ashamed of himself for being so honest and loyal a gentleman as Nature had made him. He deceived and cajoled himself very industriously, and looked steadily at the benevolent side of his intentions, leaving all the dark and ugly possibilities out of view. The old lady would certainly be better away in the country, with a snug little annuity settled upon her for life.—There was his friend Snooker, who was building a "swell" place at Sekonk. He would give her the post of lodge keeper, and a nice warm berth it would be.

Things had advanced pretty far, and I am afraid Bachelor Allsop was not altogether pure at heart. Not that he thought evil of Bessie. He could not have looked at the [illegible] more honestly than he looked at her sweet, pale face, or with a more delicious stillness at the breast; and, nevertheless, he was playing round mischief. They had walked home together a good many evenings; and Bessie had begun to expect him, and to feel disappointed when he did not appear. She thought about the kind, pleasant gentleman constantly as she sat at her work, and she blushed often to herself. The flowers he gave her she hid away and smelt of them lovingly, and kept everything locked in her breast from the knowledge of her grandmother; which was no doubt wrong. However, there was a pair of eyes watching Bessie with no friendly glance. Barnaby Allsop never entered or left the street unnoticed by Biddy O'Rooney, the virago who kept the corner grocery. She talked up Bessie's affairs with a few choice spirits, assembled in the back part of the shop, over a plentiful supply of bad whiskey; and the women declared she was a "sly, desavin huzzy, and would come to no good, like the girl over the meat market, that went and drowned herself off the bulkhead." In time the gossip reached the ears of Bessie's grandmother, touched up with Biddy's high lights; and then there was a pretty tempest a-brewing.

One morning Bachelor Allsop had dropped into Snooker's office and spoken to him about the lodge up at Sekonk. [illegible] had, served Snooker in time past; and [illegible] to give the place to any [illegible] might propose. After [illegible] town, Barnaby Allsop [illegible] Black's and purchased a [illegible] peared to strike his fancy. It was a blue enameled locket, with a delicate gold chain. The trinket was wrapped in tissue paper and deposited in his vest pocket; and, with great good humor and self-satisfaction, thinking how pleased Bessie would be, he bent his steps to the little French restaurant opposite Madame Pulsifer's door. The waiters knew him by this time, and bowed to him obsequiously, for he was a good customer. But he was not at all pleased to find Charley Dacre established in his favorite window, consuming a harmless plate of soup. He would gladly have rid himself of the youth's society; but young Dacre was good-natured, and ready to bestow that cheap commodity upon anybody who would take it.

"Look, Allsop," said Charley, picking his teeth in an easy attitude, and cocking his hat on his head, "there's a doocéd pooty girl coming out of Madame Pulsifer's door. Are you a judge, hey?"

"No, confound you," growled Barnaby Allsop down his throat. And he glanced across and saw Bessie tripping down the steps. It would have gratified the irritated gentleman to have jammed Charley Dacre's hat down over his somewhat snobby nose, and to have mashed his slim figure up against a lamp post; but, instead of that, he waited until Bessie had turned a corner, and then hooked his arm in the arm of the young fellow who bored him, and sauntered up Broadway.

The next afternoon the infatuated Allsop was again at his post; but he watched and dawdled until seven o'clock, and Bessie had not made her appearance. The little locket was still in its hiding place and his heart was ill at ease. He crossed the street as carelessly as might be, to where the kitchen maid was hanging out over the area railing, to cool her fevered brow, after the exertion of preparing Madame's dinner.

"Good evening, my girl. Is Miss Langley in?"

"Laws, no sir. Sure, and didn't her brother, a beautiful young man, come this very mornin', and take her away for good? The missus was awful cut up about it like, because there's nobody can do the show business as she could. She was so softly spoken butter wouldn't melt in her mouth. Would the gentleman like to be after speakin' to the missus?"

"O, no, I thank you." And he slipped a bill into the girl's hand, that made her stare, as he turned abruptly and walked away.

Bachelor Allsop's forebodings settled into positive gloom after he had received this report from the kitchen maid. As the dusk deepened, he went down to the neighborhood where Bessie lived, and prowled about, not with the hope of seeing the little girl's sweet, pale face, sad and wistful, perhaps, on his account, but to watch for the big brother, to measure himself with that young gentleman, and make up his mind as to whether he meant to carry things with a high hand and cut up rough.

He had not to wait long before Ned Langley issued from the little mean door of the bird-fancier's shop. He was a tall, square-shouldered young fellow, tanned and browned with much exposure, with a clear, honest blue eye, a firm mouth, and a fist that could put out straight and plant a clean square blow. The young shepherd had come back to the fold now, and the prowling wolf that hankered after the lamb must beware.

Bachelor Allsop went away in humility and contrition of spirit. He had juggled with and deceived his own sense of right and honor, like many a better man; and as I said at the beginning, he was no moral hero. Now that there was danger of losing Bessie, she grew inexpressibly dear in his eyes; and, with a kind of Quixotic chivalry, he felt that he must atone to her for the very thoughts of his heart, the errors and fallacies of the worldly philosopher. There was a sharp fight to wage with his own weakness on one side and with his dread of Mrs. Grundy on the other; but, if he overcame, who will not applaud him to the echo?

He had not slept much during the night; but in the morning Barnaby Allsop arose inwardly strengthened, and looked in the glass and saw reflected there the face of an honorable, true-hearted man. It was such a face as he had not seen for weeks past. "The rascal has always lurked behind the mask," thought he; "and I will hate him from my soul." He dressed himself with great care and drew on his yellow kids with the utmost complacency. The Misses Dasher over the way noted this unusual splendor as he went swinging down the street; and, though not a musical man, began humming a snatch of sentimental song. He poured a handful of peanies into the black paw of a little whining sweep; and gave the newsboy a quarter in currency and told him not to mind about change. There was the little locket safe in the breast of his coat. He pressed his arm over it, and experienced that kind of absurd senile joy which sometimes comes to people in the latter half of life.

There was a scene going on in the little mean room over the bird-fancier's shop. Poor Bessie was sobbing behind her apron and spoiling her lovely eyes. Ned Langley had put his large person into the rocking-chair with a frown upon his face, and had shoved out his feet doggedly and kicked Bessie's Maltese kitten in the flank.

"It's mighty hard to come home and find such goings on," he said, gloomily. "I always thought I could trust you, Bess, like my right hand. I thought you were a modest girl, and could go about without making eyes at men, and setting Biddy O'Rooney and all the vile tongues in the street to tear your good name to pieces. By heavens! if I could catch that infernal scoundrel prowling round here, I'd make short work of him."

"You have no right to speak so," cried Bessie, with a hysterical catching of the throat, and hot indignation burning in her bosom, "and shame your own sister. There was never any harm meant, and he only spoke kindly to me; and it's not many kind words that I get," added poor Bessie, with a fresh burst of sobs that choked her voice.

"No harm meant?" sneered Ned, waxing still more wroth. "Such rich fellows can't look at a girl like you without meaning harm. And to think of you taking his presents, and meeting him on the sly," added the young fellow with a snort of wrath.

"O, she's an underhand piece, with all her soft ways," put in the old lady, who looked like one of the ancient furies, in a cap with a double frill, as she stood cooped over packing-away some garments in a red chest. "Nobody knows how I've been tried since her mother was took sick and died sudding after they said it was a languishment and doctored her with wrong stuff, and she a bringing in five dollars a week from the factory regular—and Simmons that's your grandfather, he was a poor stick, never was nothing or nobody, and when I took the infant he wanted to put it in a 'sylum but I wouldn't and I slaved night and day to keep it and now see the wicked girl's ingratitude."

The old crone's monologue, delivered in a monotonous high key, without the slightest break or pause, was interrupted by the opening of the door and the thrusting in of a little dark visage and a red fez, belonging to the French bird fancier down-stairs. He had knocked, but in the excitement had not been heeded.

"This way, sah," said he, with the utmost politeness, to somebody behind him. And in another moment Bachelor Allsop was standing in the room. Bessie started back in a cold fit, which changed to a hot fit, and brought the burning blushes to her cheeks.—The old dame looked more like one of the furies than ever, as she stood transfixed, with a large red flannel bedgown suspended in her hand. Ned glowered at the stranger from under his thick, bushy eyebrows, with an instinct as to who he was, and looked as if he had a mind to sieze the poker.

I don't know how it was done. It is hard to tell how deeds are performed in the supreme moments of life. At any rate, Barnaby Allsop went over and took Bessie's little trembling hand in his, and looked about as if aware he was performing the finest action of his life.

"I have come, Bessie," said he, "before your friends here, to ask you to be my wife. I am old fellow, and not handsome, and I don't think there is a great deal of good in me; but you shall never find me unfaithful, and if you will love me.—

Here Bachelor Allsop broke off, for his words were few and confused, and he could better demonstrate his meaning in other ways. When he went down stairs again, the old granddame, with the bedgown pressed to her eyes, tried to embrace her darling Bessie's betrothed; but Ned interfered, and bore him off in safety. The young fellow wrung his hard hand at parting, for his wrath had all oozed out, and he was ready to pronounce Bachelor Allsop—what he really was—a trump. It had been arranged that the grandmother was to go West with Ned.

"I shall never cut away from the old lady," said he, in rather a low state of mind. "She isn't an angel to live with, and you see I have worked for years to make a home for Bessie."

"Oh! you'll be taking a mate of your own soon," was the Bachelor's reply. And he went his way with a light heart, and told his story to Mrs. Cutts Descombe, a lady of undoubted position; and Mrs. Descombe, dearly loving a bit of romance, was sympathy itself, and offered to keep Bessie under her wing and have the marriage take place from her mansion.

In this way Mrs Grundy was choked off for a time. But at last the facts were known, and the men thought it was the confounded bad [illegible] Allsop should have [illegible] and the [illegible] especially the Misses Dasher, declared that she wasn't any better than she ought to be, and took the Bachelor's marriage as a personal affront. At the time the ferment was most violent Barnaby Allsop was not in a state to mind them much; and when he returned from his bridal tour, and occupied a handsome house in a good neighborhood, Mrs. Descombe's carriage was seen pretty often before the door, and in time the obsequious world followed, and told the whole truth for once in pronouncing Mrs. Allsop a lady than whom none was more modest, more sweet and graceful.

The christening robe that lay perdu behind the Bachelor's closet-door came in play before the end of seven years. There are now four little toddlers dark and sunny heads clustering about mamma's silken skirts as she stands in the window, ready to welcome her husband home. Madame Pulsifer hasn't a better customer in town or a warmer friend that Mrs. Barnaby Allsop; and, if she is in the habit of referring to that lady pretty often, she is quite excusable.

Barnaby Allsop is immensely proud and fond of his wife. He has forgotten all about Snooker's lodge and the little plans connected therewith. He would be quite ready to knock any man down who should hint that such thoughts ever passed through his mind. He has cut Brown and Jones, and all that set; and nothing does more credit to human nature than this honest man's devotion to Mrs. Barnaby Allsop.—[From the Independent.

To the Honorable, the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court, next to be holden at Bangor, within and for the County of Penobscot, on the first Tuesday of April, next.

Respectfully represents Lizzie M. Prescott of Bangor, in the County of Penobscot, that she was married on the 4th day of September, A. D 1869, at Bangor, aforesaid, to Rufus I. Prescott then of said Bangor; that since their intermarriage she has in all respects done her duty as a wife, but that said Prescott in the first place fraudulently deceived her into the marriage, that he lived with her only fifteen months, that during that time he was guilty of extreme cruelty toward her, that he provided no means for her support, and that he then abandoned her entirely, and has never lived with her, provided for her support, or even seen her since, but has left this State and is now in parts unknown.

Wherefore she prays that a divorce may be granted from the bonds of matrimony between her and her said husband.

LIZZIE M. PRESCOTT.

75,000 Acres

OF GOOD

Timber Land

For Sale at a Low Rate,

Situated on Moose River, in the town of Greig, Lewis County, New York.

Said timber consisting of White Hemlock, Spruce, Pine and Hardwood. The subscribers own two large tanneries, located on the aforesaid tract, which will consume the hemlock bark, thus enabling the land and timber to be purchased at a comparatively cheap rate. The timber is excellent in quality in all particulars. The aforesaid tract of land is easy of access, being only from six to fifteen miles from both the Black River R. R. and Black River Canal, which lead direct to the Albany Market. The land is comparatively level, well watered and good for farming purposes. Moose River, which extends through the tract, is a large stream and empties into Black River, where the aforesaid Canal leads into Black River. At this point or junction of the rivers, is a fall of sixty (60) feet, over which the waters of both rivers flow, thus forming an unlimited water power, (we might say right in the Canal and at the Depot,) to which Moose River will carry the immense amount of timber from the aforesaid lands.

Any parties desiring to manufacture lumber will do well to give this rare opportunity their attention. The land and timber can be purchased at a cheap rate or the timber alone permitted.

New Testimonials.

Testimonial from Deacon Theodore B. Perkins, formerly of the well known house of Nason, Hamlin & Co., Augusta, Me. after using one 35 cent bottle of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Dec. 26, 1871.

F. W. KINSMAN, Esq.—My Dear Sir: Excessive business calls alone prevented my sooner acknowledging the receipt of your very valuable favor, and I am now glad to say that your Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam is the most efficacious preparation for coughs and colds I have ever tried in my family. At the time it was received, I was suffering badly with Asthma, attended with a dry, hard Cough, both of which left me immediately after taking the mixture. The latter has not returned. It has been several weeks.

We, the undersigned, having enjoyed for many years an intimate personal acquaintance with Deacon Theodore B. Perkins, would certify that his case of Asthma was as bad as any that has ever come under our notice, and that to our knowledge, on account of this illness he went to California, where he remained about one year undergoing treatment for the disease.

BOOTHBAY, Dec. 20, 1871.

Mr W. F. KINSMAN—Dear Sir: For the last 5 years I have been troubled with a cough; have spent one winter in Florida, taken about everything in the shape of patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions, and I can say that your Adamson's Botanic Balsam is the best thing I have found for a cough. I have been using it some three months, and am about well.

Yours truly, S. B. YOUNG, Formerly of Augusta.

AUGUSTA, Jan. 2d, 1872.

Mr. KINSMAN: I have been troubled with Asthma, attended with a Cough, ever since I was six years of age; have tried various remedies. Commenced using Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam some time in January, 1871, and it seemed to act like magic, curing me at once. I have had but little cough since and I think that it is the best remedy to be found for Asthma. I have since recommended it to quite a number, and it has given good satisfaction.

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG

CAUTION.—All genuine has the name "Peruvian Syrup," (NOT "Peruvian Bark,") blown in the glass. A 32-page pamphlet sent free. J. P. DINSMORE, Proprietor, 36 Dey St. New York. Sold by all Druggists.

NOT ONE FAILED IN 20,000.

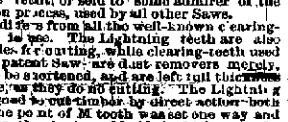

The New Year finds the LIGHTNING SAWS universally acknowledged to lead the American market. No manufacturer of saws has dared to question or publicly test at the American Institute or elsewhere, the matter of superiority of the latest improved Saws. The $500 challenge for expenses of public contest is engraved on each saw.

All teeth are cutters and simple as old V. All Saws warranted to Coil and Touch uninjured.

The large increase of the business has compelled lease of No 80 Beekman-st., and arrangements for the manufacture of five thousand LIGHTNING cross-cuts per month, and hope to be able to fill all orders promptly.

The supply has been unequal to the demand for the LIGHTNING BUCK SAW, but hereafter I will endeavor to keep a stock on hand. The sale of several thousand dozen of the above-mentioned saws causes belief that they are the best blades in the market. All Lightning Saws are indelibly etched with my name, the Cross-Cuts with directions for filing, using, &c.

Each Lightning Saw will coil and touch ends uninjured. Not one in twenty thousand has proved imperfect, so thorough is the inspection of these regular goods; but, for the benefit of such unskilled men as cannot set and use a thin Saw, a guage heavier (than regular 16) will be inserted to order. Since enlargement of dust space, one year ago, no complaint of clogging has been received. The Lightning Saws are equally adapted for large and small timber, soft or hard wood, but soft timber requires saws to be set wider. Lightning Saws are all set and sharpened ready for use when sent out, are two gauges thinner on back.

"THE GREATEST INCLUDES THE LESS."

Nooo extra steel and durability as contrasted with old V outlines on M tooth. After wearing teeth out they may be recut or sold to some admirer of the old V friction process, used by all other Saws.

This Saw differs from all the well-known clearing-tooth Saws in use. The Lightning teeth are also beveled blades for cutting, while clearing-teeth used by all other patent Saws are dust removers merely, requiring to be shortened, and are left full thickness of saw-plate, so they do no cutting. The Lightning Saw is designed to cut timber by direct action—both ways. If one point of M tooth was set one way and one the other, the slant would ride and lift out the tooth. Most of the large Hardware Jobbing Houses in America now handle my goods. BEWARE of worthless infringements, for which I am seeking legal redress under Patents, Trade Mark, and Copyright.

NEW-YORK, AM. INSTITUTE FAIR BUILDING, Nov. 4, 1871.

E. M. BOYNTON, 78 Beekman-st., New-York—SIR: This certifies that I saw the Lightning Cross-Cut Saw, worked by hand, by two men, Nov. 2, at this Fair. Said men and saw cut off a sound 8x9 inch chestnut log in 3½ seconds; and 18 cuts of same, continuously, in two minutes and 18 seconds, or at a rate of a cord of wood in less than nine minutes. I am satisfied that for all purposes of cross-cutting large and small timber, your cross-cuts and wood saws have no rival in speed, in ease, and in simplicity.

I believe their universal use would save a vast amount of money and time, and lighten the toil of millions of men. J. W. BLAKE,

Superintendent and Engineer American Institute Fair.

N. B. These extreme tests are quoted merely to prove what should be obvious—that direct cutting is better than the old V friction process used by all other saws.

Honest hardware men will procure the genuine for their customers, even if they are overstocked with inferior goods, and where they do not keep them, Agents are wanted. A six-foot Cross-Cut and Buck Saw sent on receipt of $6. Express will cost from 40 cents to $1 to places this side of the Mississippi River by special contract.

N. B. Millions of Axes are used for cutting wood; a Lightning Cross-Cut Saw, either for one man or for two, will cut five times as fast as an axe. Why not try them? Also Lightning Ice Saws, 4 to 6 feet long, [illegible] each saw.

E. M. BOYNTON. [illegible]

MISS SAWYER'S SALVE.

HERE you have a salve combining soothing and healing properties, with no dangerous ingredients. A remedy at hand for the many pains and aches, wounds and bruises to which flesh is heir. Is more easily applied than many other remedies, never producing a bad effect, but always relieving pain, however severe.

It is prepared by Miss Sawyer, who has used it in her own extensive treatment of the sick, for nearly twenty years, with great success.

The principal diseases for which this salve is recommended are, Chilblains, Rheumatism, Piles, Scrofula, Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Sprains, Burns, Fever Sores, Felons, Pimples, Erysipelas, Sore Eyes, Barber's Itch, Deafness, Boils, Ring-worms, Corns, Bites of Insects, Cancers, Toothache, Earache, Sore Nipples, Baldness, Swollen Breasts, Itch, Scald Head, Teething, Chapped Hands, Scalds, Cuts, Bruises, Croup, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children.

It never fails to cure Rheumatism if properly applied. Rub it on well with the hand three times a day. In several cases it has cured palsied limbs. For Piles it has been discovered to be a sure remedy. Persons that have been afflicted for years have been relieved by a few applications. For Erysipelas it works wonders, allaying the inflammation and quieting the patient. For Chapped Hands it produces a cure immediately. Let those with Salt Rheum obtain this Salve, and apply it freely, and they will find it invaluable. It is good in cases of Scrofula and Tumors. Cancers have been cured with it. The best Salve ever invented for Swollen Breast and Sore Nipples. No way injurious, but sure to afford relief. Sore or Weak Eyes—Rub it on the lids gently, once or twice a day. Cures deafness by putting in the ears on a piece of cotton. For Felons this is superior to anything known. For Pimples this acts like a charm. For Burns and Scalds, apply the Salve at once and it gives immediate relief. For Old Sores, apply once a day.

Not among the least of the invaluable properties of MISS SAWYER'S SALVE are its beneficial effects on the hair. Rubbed on the scalp, in five or six different parts, it promotes the growth of the hair, prevents it turning gray, and on bald spots it produces a new growth of hair. No lady should be without this invaluable article as an indispensable cosmetic for the toilet. It eradicates dandruff and disease from the head, and blotches and pimples from the face.

From Mrs. ELIZABETH COOMBS, Brunswick.

Brunswick, April 4, 1867.

MISS SAWYER: I received your letter last evening, and was very glad you concluded to let me take your Salve. I think I can do well with it, and it will be quite an accommodation to my husband, as he cannot get along without it. He has tried everything else and has never found anything that healed his leg as that Salve of yours, and we have both found it to be all, and even more, than you recommend it to be. We have had it in the family five or six years, and have used it for everything, and can truly say we have never found its equal. I use it for a weak back, and it acts like a charm. Mr Coombs has had a Fever Sore on his leg for thirty years, and would be a cripple to-day, if he had not found a remedy in your Salve. It keeps it healed, and takes out the inflammation, proud flesh and swelling, and does for him all that he can ask. I can recommend it for a good many things that you have not, for I use it for everything. I consider it invaluable in a family. If you can put this testimony together, and it can be of any service to you, you are welcome.

Yours, &c. ELIZABETH COOMBS.
